FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS

In re Subpoena issued to Grande
Communications Networks LLC

MISCELLANEOUS CASE NO: _____

DECLARATION OF JEANNE MULCAHY

I, Jeanne Mulcahy, hereby declare as follows:

1. My name is Jeanne Mulcahy. I am over 18 years of age, of sound mind, and fully competent to make this Declaration. I have personal knowledge of the matters stated herein, and they are true and correct. I am a Director of Legal Compliance Services for Neustar, Inc. ("Neustar"), which provides subpoena response and compliance services to Grande Communications Networks LLC ("Grande") as well as a number of other Internet service providers and cable providers. Grande is an Internet service provider and cable operator serving subscribers in several regions of the state of Texas.

2. On or about August 12, 2014, Neustar received a subpoena from Rightscorp, Inc. via Federal Express seeking the personal information of Grande subscribers for numerous IP address and timestamp combinations. The Subpoena was accompanied by a spreadsheet (approximately 500 pages long) listing 30,060 IP address and timestamp combinations as to which Rightscorp seeks such information. A copy of the Subpoena, as well as the first 10 pages and the last 10 pages of that spreadsheet is attached as Exhibit A, along with the first 10 pages and the last 10 pages of a second, related spreadsheet (which is also approximately 500 pages long) titled "Infringement List" that lists numerous works to which Rightscorp (or some other person or entity) holds the copyright.

3. I am familiar with the process of responding to IP address lookups for Internet subscriber information. The process includes: (i) searching the Internet service providers' logs for the subscriber account to which a given IP address was assigned as of a particular date and time; (ii) determining the subscriber and the subscriber's billing or other contact address associated with that account; (iii) preparing, formatting, addressing, printing, and mailing notice of the subpoena to each subscriber (as customary and, with respect to a cable operator such as Grande, required), giving such subscriber a period of time to file an objection before the Internet service provider will disclose the subscriber's personal information; (iv) responding to subscriber inquiries and monitoring which subscribers have filed objections; and (v) preparing a response listing the personal information for the subscriber if no objection is filed, and transmitting that response to the requesting party in a secure manner.

4. The personal information that may be retrieved by an Internet service provider in the IP address lookup process described above is the name and contact information associated with the Internet subscriber (the person who pays the bill) for a given Internet account, which is not necessarily the name and contact information of the individual(s) (family member, roommate, guest, etc.) who were actually using that Internet account at the specified point in time.

5. Given the extraordinary volume of the subscriber lookups involved, the electronic information sought by the Subpoena is not reasonably accessible, and providing such information would impose extraordinary burden and cost on Grande.

6. Based on my experience and familiarity with the IP address logs and systems that Grande maintains for its Internet subscribers, I calculated a minimum cost and time period that would be associated with performing the over 30,000 lookups requested in the Subpoena. At a minimum, the cost of the lookups would be $32,026.00, and it would take approximately two months for dedicated personnel to perform those lookups and send notifications to affected subscribers.

7. After Neustar's receipt of the Subpoena, Neustar made several attempts to contact counsel for Rightscorp, Mr. Dennis J. Hawk, by phone and in writing, regarding the Subpoena, including concerns regarding the cost and time for compliance, as well as the absence of a court order. A true and correct copy of written communications including an e-mail chain is attached hereto as Exhibit B. After repeated efforts, Mr. Hawk finally responded (three days before the stated date for compliance) with a summary pronouncement that: "Our client does not pay to obtain the address details on infringers. We expect compliance by the service providers."

8. I declare under penalty of perjury that the above is true and correct.

DATED: September 5, 2014

FURTHER DECLARANT SAYETH NOT.

CIVIL ACTION NO. 2:12CV142-M-A

JOHN/JANE DOES 1-2

DEFENDANTS

ORDER GRANTING IN PART MOTION FOR EXPEDITED DISCOVERY
AND FOR EXTENSION OF TIME TO SERVE DEFENDANTS

Plaintiff has moved to serve third-party subpoenas on the Internet Service Providers (ISPs) of defendants before the Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(f) conference to determine the identities of defendants John/Jane Does 1-2. Docket # 3. For the reasons set forth below, plaintiff's Motion for Expedited Discovery is GRANTED in part and DENIED in part.

Plaintiff alleges that it is the owner of the copyright for a motion picture titled "Mommy and Me # 2" and that defendants "acted in a collective and interdependent manner in the unlawful reproduction and distribution of Plaintiff's Motion Picture using BitTorrent file transfer protocol." Docket 1. "BitTorrent is a peer-to-peer file sharing protocol used for distributing and sharing data on the Internet, including files containing digital versions of motion pictures." Id. at 5. Plaintiff only knows each defendant through the defendant's IP address on the date and at the time at which the infringing activity was observed. Id. at 3. Plaintiff wishes to subpoena the ISPs that issued the defendants' IP addresses to obtain the identities of the account holders for the IP addresses.

Rule 26(d)(1) provides that a "party may not seek discovery from any source before the parties have conferred as required by Rule 26(f), except . . . when authorized by . . . court order.”¹ The Federal Rules do not dictate a specific protocol for determining whether expedited discovery is appropriate, but courts generally employ two standards: the preliminary injunction style analysis or the “good cause” standard. St. Louis v. Metals & Additives Corp., Inc., 275 F.R.D. 236, 239 (S.D. Tex. 2011). Although the Fifth Circuit has not adopted either standard, the majority of courts, including others within the Fifth Circuit, have used the “good cause” standard, and this court will do the same. Under this standard, the court must consider whether the need for expedited discovery, as it relates to the administration of justice, outweighs the prejudice to the responding party. Id. “In essence, a “good cause” analysis is akin to a broader and more flexible totality of the circumstances analysis.” Id., citing Dimension Data N. Am., Inc. v. NetStar-1, Inc., 226 F.R.D. 528 (E.D. N.C. 2005) (“a standard based upon reasonableness or good cause, taking into account the totality of the circumstances, is more in keeping with discretion bestowed upon the court in the Federal Rules).

To support good cause Plaintiff submits that 1) Combat Zone has made a prima facie case for copyright infringement, 2) Combat Zone has identified specific information – the identities of the John/Jane Does – it seeks through discovery; 3) no alternative means exist to obtain the identities of the John/Jane Does; 4) Combat Zone cannot pursue its claims without the identities of the defendants; and 5) plaintiff’s interest in learning the identities of defendants outweighs defendant's interests in remaining anonymous.

¹Plaintiff requests that the court’s Order indicate that the court contemplated, and its Order complies with, the Cable Privacy Act’s requirements found at 47 U.S.C. 551. Docket # 3, p. 6-7. However, based upon the court’s review of the Cable Privacy Act and other court’s opinions about the Act’s applicability to ISPs acting solely as conduits for communications between two internet users, such as persons sharing peer-to-peer files (P2P), the court is of the opinion that the Cable Privacy Act does not support the issuance of a § 512(h) subpoena to an ISP acting as a conduit for P2P sharing. Recording Industry Ass’n. of Am., Inc. v. Verizon Internet Servs., Inc., 351 F.3d 1229, 1232-38 (D.C. Cir. 2003).

There is no way to avoid the fact that the John/Jane Doe defendants must be identified before the case may proceed, and the only way to obtain those identities is via a subpoena to the ISPs that retain the information necessary to correlate an IP address to a person. This process is not unusual and has been utilized in other cases. See Arista Records LLC v. Does 1-16, 604 F.3d 110 (2nd Cir. 2010); Arista Records LLC v. Does 1-4, 589 F.Supp.2d 151 (D. Conn. 2008). For these reasons, the undersigned finds that Combat Zone has demonstrated good cause for expedited discovery, and the issuance of subpoenas to the ISPs will be permitted subject to the notification requirements and other limitations set forth below. The court orders the following:

- (1) Plaintiff may immediately serve a subpoena under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 on SBC Internet Services, Inc. and MetroCast Cablevision for each defendant to whom the ISP assigned an IP address. Each subpoena must be accompanied by a copy of this Order.
- (2) Within seven days of service of each subpoena, the ISPs must reasonably attempt to identify each defendant and provide him or her with a copy of the subpoena and this Order. If either ISP is unable to determine, to a reasonable degree of technical certainty, the identity of the user of a particular IP address, it must notify the plaintiff of that fact.
- (3) The ISPs are granted twenty-one (21) days from the date of service of the subpoena to move to quash or otherwise object to the subpoena. Each defendant is granted fourteen (14) days from the date of receipt of the subpoena from the ISP to move to quash or otherwise object to the subpoena.

(4) Absent any motion to quash or objection, the ISPs must produce the information sought by plaintiff within twenty-one (21) days after notifying each defendant as required by paragraph (2) above.

The court will not address the issue of severance raised by SBC Internet Services, Inc. d/b/a AT&T Internet Services (“AT&T”) [Docket # 11] as the issue is premature and will be addressed at a later date if necessary. Similarly, plaintiff’s motion to conduct additional discovery in the form of interrogatories and requests for production or admissions directed to defendants once they are identified is DENIED. That request is also premature given that the defendants have not even been identified yet. The court will consider a renewed motion on this issue once defendants have been identified. Finally, although the court appointed attorney Paul Chiniche to represent the interests of the unnamed defendants in response to plaintiff’s Motion to Expedite Discovery, that appointment terminates upon entry of this Order, and he has no further responsibility to represent any party. Docket # 5. Once they have been identified by the ISPs, it is the responsibility of each defendant to secure the services of Mr. Chiniche or any other counsel of their own choosing if they wish to be represented by an attorney in this matter.

Plaintiff has requested an extension of time to serve defendants to avoid dismissal under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(m). Because plaintiff needs additional time to obtain the identities of defendants, plaintiff’s request for an additional 90 days to serve defendants is GRANTED.

This, the 6th day of December, 2012.
